FULLY MANAGED EVIDENCE GATHERING

Gathering evidence yourself means purchasing equipment and then finding people to install, redeploy and operate it, and to review footage and write statements. It's time-consuming and expensive.

Crimewave's fully managed service takes these problems away. We can view and report on any information you request.

We take care of everything:

- No capital outlay
- Full review of CCTV footage
- Installation and movement of cameras
- Statements and exhibits
- Liaison with local authorities for action and prosecution
- Maintenance and repair of equipment
- Fully inclusive of labour costs

“I write to recommend the services of Crimewave. We have been using this company for over four years now, to assist with auditing and evidencing environmental crime throughout Milton Keynes. I have always been completely satisfied with their performance. Crimewave complete their services with understanding, professionalism and with the customer's needs in mind. They provide us with a start-to-finish service, even to the point of giving evidence on our behalf in a criminal court.”
